

H Bow

(1,5,9,13,17,21,25)

The diagram shows five acrobats in a vertical stack. The bottom acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched. The second acrobat is standing on the first's hands. The third acrobat is standing on the second's hands. The fourth acrobat is standing on the third's hands. The top acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below.

4 Monopod

(2,6,10,14,18,22,26)

The diagram shows four acrobats in a Monopod formation. The bottom acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched. The second acrobat is standing on the first's hands. The third acrobat is standing on the second's hands. The top acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below.

(inter)

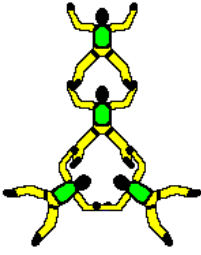

360°

360°

The diagram shows two stages of a 360-degree rotation of the Monopod formation. The top acrobat is shown in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below. A curved arrow indicates a 360-degree rotation. The bottom acrobat is shown in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below. A curved arrow indicates a 360-degree rotation.

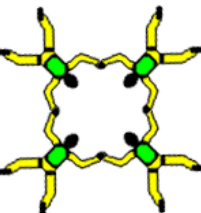

Monopod

(3,7,11,15,19,23,27)

The diagram shows four acrobats in a Monopod formation. The bottom acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched. The second acrobat is standing on the first's hands. The third acrobat is standing on the second's hands. The top acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below.

M Star

(4,8,12,16,20,24,28)

The diagram shows four acrobats in a Star formation. The bottom acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched. The second acrobat is standing on the first's hands. The third acrobat is standing on the second's hands. The top acrobat is in a crouched position with arms outstretched, supported by the hands of the acrobat below.